

From the Academic Dean:

Congratulations to CIS's SCD Prize-winners

At the SCD graduation on Saturday two CIS students received prizes. Ms Margaret Keyes, who works in the Veech library and is a CIS BTh (Hons) student, won the Dianne Feeney Memorial Prize (highest level of achievement in the BTh and progressing to postgraduate studies) and the Rev. Dr Brian Murray Memorial Prize (highest level of achievement in the discipline of theology in a BTh). Mr Matthew Dimian, a seminarian for Parramatta Diocese, won the Award for Excellence in Biblical Hebrew from the NSW Council for Christians and Jews. And Mr Jason Israel, the CIS registrar and an MTh candidate at St Andrews Greek Orthodox Theological College, won the SCD Centre for Gospels Research Essay Prize. Congratulations to all three for these significant achievements!

Dr Rohan Curnow

Mass will be celebrated Monday to Thursday in the Chapel this week 12:40pm.
