For Personal or Professional Interest

These modules would suit parish secretaries, pastoral associates, those who work in Catholic education, and anyone with an interest in canon law and its relationship to parish life. Those wishing to attend for personal or professional interest can opt to attend one or more modules as the modules are stand-alone. A certificate of attendance is available upon request. The cost is $120 per module (i.e., per day). Those wanting more information should contact the CIS Receptionist, Mrs Angelina Tropeano, at cisinfo@cis.catholic.edu.au or 9752-9500.

For Academic Credit

The modules are also available to be taken for academic credit, at undergraduate and postgraduate levels, as a single course unit in canon law. Students would need to attend all four days until 4:30pm, complete the assigned assessment tasks, and comply with the CIS academic regulations. Those seeking academic credit for the modules should contact the CIS Registrar, Mr Jason Israel, at registrar@cis.catholic.edu.au or 9752-9503. FEE-HELP, with conditions, is available to eligible students.
