BIENNIAL CONFERENCE IN PHILOSOPHY, RELIGION AND CULTURE

“The Expressible and the Inexpressible”

7 pm Friday 5th till 5 pm Sunday 7th October 2012
at Catholic Institute of Sydney, 99 Albert Rd, Strathfield NSW 2135

The Conference begins with a Public Lecture
7 for 7.30 pm Friday 5th October:

Timothy Chappell, The Open University, UK
“Whereof we Cannot Speak”

Professor Chappell’s current research is in ethics and the question, ‘What makes a good decision?’
In this lecture, he takes exception to the early claim by Wittgenstein that one must either use precise logical descriptions or remain silent. There are good reasons, he argues, to accept other modes of expression.

Convenors: Stephen Buckle (ACU), William Emilsen (UTC/CSU), Peter Forrest (UNE), John McDowell (Newcastle), Shane Mackinlay (CTC/MCD), Andrew Murray (CIS/SCD)

Registration fee: $110 ($65 Students) includes morning/afternoon teas and lunches. A conference dinner will be held on Saturday night. Dinner booking and payment of $50 are required by 17 September.

For further details, including registration form and a list of papers to be offered, see:
Website: http://www.cis.catholic.edu.au/news-a-events/biennial-conference or: contact Andrew Murray at Catholic Institute of Sydney. (02) 9752 9500;
apmurray@cis.catholic.edu.au