WHY DO THIS COURSE?

PT382 runs consecutively with a pastoral placement which forms the experiential component of this unit, students are encouraged to take responsibility for a particular pastoral initiative. The course is an advanced level unit designed for those who have completed or who are about to complete a degree in theology. In this sense, and combined with a significant placement, pastoral theology has the potential to allow students to produce the fruit of sustained theological study in a concrete context. At the completion of the course students should be able to:

- demonstrate advanced skills of interpersonal behaviour within ministry
- evidence skills of supervision, peer review and team participation
- engage in critical theological reflection upon ministerial experience
- utilise supervisory support, feedback and clarification for the purpose of integrating personal attributes into pastoral realities
- demonstrate a critical appreciation of their own pastoral identity
- evidence theological insights into pastoral practice

WHO CAN PARTICIPATE?

This course is designed for seminarians who are in the process of completing their theological studies and undertaking a significant pastoral placement. However, lay students who work in any aspect of ministry (health, school, parish etc.) are encouraged to undertake the course unit.
